ORANGE-GROWING. Some Account of the Industry in Florida

The climate of Florida is favorable to the production of the orange, but instead of being a wilderness of flowers it is more like a sandy desert. Its natural groves of orange trees, though beautiful to the eye, bear fruit that to the palate is as sour as that of the lemon, and they are to be found only in favorable situations, and then only one acre in a thousand. And the cultivated groves of orange trees of more than ten years' growth are as few and far apart as the natives. But within the last ten years the amount of sweet orange trees that have been planted is immense, and they are, many of them, just coming into bearing, and with moderate care will continue to bear every year through a man's lifetime; longer even than apple trees usually produce fruit. The orange grows within ten feet of tide-water, provided it has a dry standing place in a porous soil. The original seed of the orange was probably brought into the State by the early Spanish settlers and their Indian allies, for they bear a strong resemblance to some that are cultivated in Spain. As an evergreen ornamental tree nothing exceeds sour orange. They are easily grown from seed. No use is made of the fruit except to make orange cordial, made from the juice and sugar, and some are made into marmalade. But by far the larger portion go to decay. Some boxes of the sour oranges were sent to Boston recently, but no sale could be made of them for any purpose. To make the wild trees useful, they are cut back to about four feet in height and budded with the sweet orange. Nurseries are numerous, devoted to that branch of the business. The most dangerous pest the cultivators have to contend with is the scale insect, which is ruinous to large trees. A caustic wash, good cultivation and manuring keep the trees vigorous. The die bark is another trouble, which, having destroyed thousands of apple trees in the Northern States, now in a small degree affects the orange tree. It does not seem to injure the looks, but it dissipates the juice and leaves the pulp corky and tasteless. Since 1865, 100 times as many trees have been planted as formerly, and already the trade is enormous, though only in its infancy. Should the time come when the market shall be glutted, the juice may be converted into wine that, by proper care, would make a pleasant, sweet cordial, equal to grape wine. It has been demonstrated that it can be kept either in wood or glass, and may in the future prove a valuable addition to the light wines of the country. The heavy sums that have been paid for the importation of the orange have stimulated the growth and cultivation of the fruit in the tropical climate of Florida, and it is possible that we may successfully compete with the fruiters of the Mediterranean.

Pays to Cultivate Wheat.

Mattoon Gazette. Mr. Banks, of Sullivan, is convinced that it pays to plant wheat and cultivate it, instead of raising a crop by sowing or drilling. As an experiment he planted about half an acre in rows both ways, the same as corn, the rows being two feet apart, with four grains in a hill, plowing once last fall and once this spring. Some of the hills had a hundred stalks, while the average was seventy-five, the heads ranging from four to eight inches in length, and containing from fifty to eighty grains of nice plump wheat. It is estimated that each grain planted produced an average of 1,000 grains. The seed used was common white wheat, and the yield is claimed to be double by this method. Wheat sown in the usual way, and growing right along side of that cultivated, had heads only about half as long.

We Guarantee Price, color and quality of all the goods we sell, but from this date will take no goods back because the purchaser makes a mistake; as goods are always more or less damaged, and remnants always entail losses that cannot be borne on account of the very small profits.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN.
PUBLISHED BY
HANSHER & MOSSER PUBLISHERS.
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 26, 1879.
TWENTY-TWO THOUSAND admission tickets were sold on Friday, the last day of the Reunion, at Aurora. Perhaps 2,000 soldiers and others entered the gates free, while possibly 5,000 found their way in through a section of fence removed from the east side to give view of the battle field. These totals, 23,000, have been variously estimated at from 50,000 to 75,000. The total number of admission tickets sold in three days was 35,000.

THE KING OF SIAM has sent a wedding present to the Duchess of Cornwall, which was handed by the Siamese Envoy to the German Empress at Obolentz. It consists of a consecrated shell set in gold, two massive golden bowls for jewelry, and golden pedestal with two branches. The whole is inclosed in an elegant chest covered with orange-colored velvet. The objects are of genuine Siamese work, and display great taste in design and skill in execution.

WHEN Captain Dixon, Yazoo county, was a leader of the bulldozers, the Democracy dubbed him "bravest of the brave," and presented him a silver service. When he became an independent candidate for sheriff against the regular Democrat, he was called "the best citizen" and on him and notified him to withdraw from the canvass on peril of his life. When he consented to withdraw he was let alone, and when he again announced his determination to be a candidate he was killed.—Indianapolis Journal.

THE YAZOO FROLIC.

Hardly a paper in the State has condemned the Yazoo frolic.

GRANT'S GALILEO RESIDENCE.
The old residence of Gen. Grant, at Galena, is being put in repair for the occupation of its owner. The Galena Gazette says, thus far a sidewalk has been laid in front of the premises, the outbuildings have been repaired, the troughs handsomely trimmed, a new and commodious wash house built, and other needed improvements made. The designs to put the building in comfortable shape for the reception of Mr. and Mrs. Grant, who are expected to arrive in Galena the last of next month.

ILLINOIS "BARK HORSE."
From the New York Herald.
General Grant recently said that he looked forward with considerable pleasure to a somewhat extended visit which he will make in his old town of Galena, Ill. The fact that he will be associated with his old secretary and minister, E. B. Washburne, and that the Germans like Washburne for his services to the Germans in Paris, is leading Western Republican politicians to anticipate that Washburne will be the dark horse.

A Desperate Remedy.
Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier (Dem.)
It is much easier to glibly denounce the action of the citizens of Yazoo as political persecution than to indicate how, living in a county with an overwhelming majority of ignorant and deluded blacks, they were to protect themselves from the mischievous influence of such a social firebrand as they regard Dixon to have been. Their case was a desperate one, and they adopted a desperate remedy. It is impossible to judge their action with fairness, unless we take into consideration the circumstances of their situation, the actual danger to life and property and to the public peace involved in the leadership of Dixon.

George Francis Train.
It may interest the numerous friends of Mr. George Francis Train to know that he is "still alive," and that he issued an "extra" of his paper, the Republican, from his headquarters in Madison Square, this afternoon, chiefly in defense of the Hebrew race. He sums up the Manhattan Beach Corbin cases thus: "They (the Jews) are the capitalists, the rulers and the brains of the world. They are more aristocratic in race, culture, and good manners than we Gentiles are. Now let the 100,000 Jews in New York break parties and vote their own man into power. Make Seligman Governor, Simon Stern Mayor, and Belmont M. C. Nobody but Israel on guard!" In a double postscript, it ought to be added, Mr. Train proves his total disinterestedness by reminding his Jewish friends that the wholesale price of the Republican is $1 per 100, and that packages of from 50 to 100 are now ready for mailing at two cents each.

THE ILLINOIS MIDLAND RAILROAD
A Big Bet for Its Possession—Any Amount of President Transactions Allowed.
From the Peoria Transcript.
In the United States District Court at Springfield, Friday, Dunham & Dille, of Atlanta, and other creditors of the Illinois Midland Railroad Company, filed a cross-bill in the case of Hervey against the Midland, wherein a receiver for that road was originally appointed. The cross-bill recites that the petitioners are judgment creditors of the road, and also the facts as to its organization. It is alleged that Grant Brothers and Waring Brothers, of London, owners of nearly all the bonds of the Peoria, Atlanta and Decatur, Paris and Decatur, and Paris and Terre Haute Railroad Companies, entered into a contract with R. G. Hervey for the consolidation of those roads under the name of the Illinois Midland; that in consequence the roads were so consolidated, the consideration being the assumption by the new corporation of the debts of the various consolidated roads.

Among the property turned over by the Paris and Decatur Road was a lot of rolling stock, and other equipments, and immediately thereafter Hervey and others organized the Illinois Midland Rolling Stock Company, and Hervey as president of the Midland Company fraudulently turned over to the rolling stock company the principal part of these equipments. Then the railroad company rented the equipments back from the rolling stock company. About the same time, the balance of the rolling stock was turned over to the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Railroad Company, and there was leased from that company a corresponding amount of equipments.

After the road went into the hands of George Dole, as receiver, Waring Brothers fraudulently obtained possession of all the equipments turned over to the rolling stock company, and the Terre Haute and Indianapolis Company, and sold them to Dole, taking therefor receiver's certificates to the amount of $234,323.20, which was largely in excess of their value. It is charged that these transactions were frauds, as the property really belonged to the Midland Company all the while.

It is also alleged that the Midland Company issued bonds to the amount of $4,175,000 for the avowed purpose of paying off the bonds and floating debts of the original companies; that the Waring Brothers fraudulently obtained possession of a large majority of these bonds, and still hold them without paying for them; that they also obtained possession of $250,000 of Paris and Terre Haute bonds; that they exchanged the bonds of the other original companies for Midland bonds, and afterward repossessed themselves of the exchanged bonds, "and now claim to own all the Paris and Terre Haute bonds, five-sixths of the Paris and Decatur, Peoria, Atlanta and Decatur, and Midland Railroad bonds, amounting altogether to $6,000,000."

The petitioners further recite the operation of the Waring, and then go on to claim that the Midland bonds, having been created to pay off the debts of the original companies, formed a trust fund for the benefit of the creditors, and therefore the complainants seek to recover from Waring the full value of these bonds.

It is further alleged that during Mr. Dole's receivership, which was from September 11, 1875, to August 31, 1876, receiver's certificates for $336,953.50 were issued; during the receivership of Rees, ending December 10, 1878, receiver's certificates for $130,207.80 were issued, and L. Genis, present receiver, has issued about $65,000, making a total of $532,161.10, all of which, excepting $6,000 were issued to the Waring, and they now hold them except such as have been paid off. On February 20, 1879, the indebtedness created by the Midland receivers was $668,314.26, and the road was in such bad order that, as reported by Genis, the receiver, $125,000 was needed for repairs. Many other villainies are charged, such as fraudulent assignment of claims against the road to the Waring, etc. The complainants seek to recover the equipment, the title to which the Waring still pretend to hold, and to cancel the receiver's certificates issued for the purchase of the equipment, as well as to recover the value of the bonds. The bill also charges that L. Genis, the present receiver of the road, has been and now is the agent and attorney of Waring Bros., and that he has been a party to all the frauds and illegal transactions complained of.

The attorneys for the complainants are D. T. McIntire, of Mattoon; Geo. H. Esterbrook, of Atlanta, and J. M. Clokey, of Decatur. Crea & Ewing, of Decatur, are the attorneys for the Waring. A rule was entered requiring the defendants to answer on first Monday of October.

A cross bill was also filed by the same attorneys in behalf of Jacob Willis and other creditors of the Peoria and Decatur Railroad Company, similar in its main features to the former. The leading feature in this bill is that the complainants represent that they were creditors of the said railroad at the time it executed its deed to the Paris, Atlanta and Decatur Railroad Company, and that their claims were a part of those assumed by the grantee company; that the Paris and Decatur properties became a trust fund in the hands of the Peoria, Atlanta and Decatur, now the Illinois Midland Railway Company, for their benefit, and seek now to recover all the Paris and Decatur properties for the benefit of its creditors.

A NEW IMPETUS AT MEMPHIS.
KALLOCH'S CONDITION
Opinions of Press and Pulpit on the Tragedy.
MEMPHIS, Aug. 25.—The fever is again on the increase. Thirty-four cases and eight deaths were reported to the Board of Health to-day.

The spreading of the disease is noticeably in the northern portion of the city. Sixteen cases developed in Chelsea. Prominent physicians are now of the opinion that there will be a continued increase until October. Notwithstanding the efforts of the State Board of Health officials to confine the disease to the city proper, scarcely a day passes but what new cases are reported in the suburbs, at a distance varying from two to ten miles. The last instances are those of Esquire Hoegel and family, six miles south of Memphis, and Dave Cockrell, five miles east, on the Poplar street boulevard.

Mr. Jake Kohlberg, a Howard visitor, to-night related to your correspondent an incident connected with Mrs. Minnie Wilkie's death, which occurred this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Just previous to dissolution she had several attacks to black vomit, and during the intervals called upon her husband to kiss her. Regardless of the danger that attended her request her husband time and again imprinted his kiss upon her. He was warned of the risk he ran, but he was faithful to her in death as he had been in life. She died with her arms around his neck. One hour afterwards Mr. Wilkie himself was stricken with a most malignant case, although he had a severe attack last year. His kiss may yet prove the kiss of death.

The following appeal has been sent out by the Teutonic Relief Association: To the Germans of the United States: The Teutonic Relief Association, comprising delegates of all the German societies of Memphis, are compelled to call on their countrymen for help. Our fund is nearly exhausted, and the suffering is very great. Send to the Teutonic Relief Association. (Signed) A. GOLDSCHMIDT, Pres. JOHN L. EICHENBERG, Sec.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, Charley Atwell, a German, shot and instantly killed Henry Allen, a negro. The causes which led to the shooting are as follows: Henry Allen and another negro named Henry Wagner had a difficulty with Atwell about half an hour before the killing occurred, at which time Atwell snapped a pistol at Atwell, but it failed to explode. Atwell then fired a shot over the heads of his assassins, who fled, but soon returned heavily armed, Wagner carrying a double-barreled shot gun, while Allen had a navy six-shooter. Atwell in the meantime had retired within Mrs. Carroll's garden on Poplar street. Joe Strehl, a butcher, was seated in front of the garden when the negroes approached, and tried to expostulate with them, but they paid no attention to him, and endeavored to pass him and enter the house; Strehl seized Wagner's gun, and a struggle ensued between the two. Allen immediately fired at Strehl. Atwell ran to the front door with a pistol in his hand, when Allen fired twice at him. Atwell then took deliberate aim and fired one shot at Allen, striking him in the right side underneath the arm, killing him instantly. By this time Wagner had gained possession of his gun and immediately fled. Atwell mounted a horse and rode to the station house, where he surrendered himself to the police authorities. A coroner's inquest was held on the remains of Allen, and the jury, which was composed of four whites and three colored, returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Atwell was at once released from custody.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—A gentleman here, who has always enjoyed confidential relations with Gen. Grant, and who has been in constant and frequent correspondence with him on matters of general and personal interest, intimates that the ex-President has intimated to him his willingness to accept the Presidency of the proposed Nicaraguan Inter-oceanic canal. It will be remembered this great commercial enterprise received the personal attention of Gen. Grant when President, and a number of surveying expeditions were sent out by his direction, and under the immediate supervision of Admiral Ammen. A telegram received here from Gen. Grant in Japan, through the Secretary of the Navy, replying to a letter referring to the question of his acceptance of the Presidency of a company for the purposes indicated, states: "I approve." The friends of Gen. Grant who are cognizant of his intentions for the future, intimate that he has stated that he would take pride in crowning his public services by some great achievement in the interest of the peaceful pursuits and for the benefit of the whole world. This closing ambition, they say, would be consummated in the execution of this great project—one in which this hemisphere is directly connected, and one which every commercial nation on the face of the globe would enjoy. They justly claim that the influence of his name, both at home and abroad, would be a guaranty of the success of this great commercial enterprise, both with respect to the necessary concessions and means.

The President to-day received the resignation of Mark Bangs, district attorney at Chicago. His resignation has grown out of complications connected with the conduct of the Post Office and other suits. It is intimated that Mr. Leek will succeed him.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—A gentleman here, who has always enjoyed confidential relations with Gen. Grant, and who has been in constant and frequent correspondence with him on matters of general and personal interest, intimates that the ex-President has intimated to him his willingness to accept the Presidency of the proposed Nicaraguan Inter-oceanic canal. It will be remembered this great commercial enterprise received the personal attention of Gen. Grant when President, and a number of surveying expeditions were sent out by his direction, and under the immediate supervision of Admiral Ammen. A telegram received here from Gen. Grant in Japan, through the Secretary of the Navy, replying to a letter referring to the question of his acceptance of the Presidency of a company for the purposes indicated, states: "I approve." The friends of Gen. Grant who are cognizant of his intentions for the future, intimate that he has stated that he would take pride in crowning his public services by some great achievement in the interest of the peaceful pursuits and for the benefit of the whole world. This closing ambition, they say, would be consummated in the execution of this great project—one in which this hemisphere is directly connected, and one which every commercial nation on the face of the globe would enjoy. They justly claim that the influence of his name, both at home and abroad, would be a guaranty of the success of this great commercial enterprise, both with respect to the necessary concessions and means.

The President to-day received the resignation of Mark Bangs, district attorney at Chicago. His resignation has grown out of complications connected with the conduct of the Post Office and other suits. It is intimated that Mr. Leek will succeed him.

A NEW IMPETUS AT MEMPHIS.
KALLOCH'S CONDITION
Opinions of Press and Pulpit on the Tragedy.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 25.—The fever is again on the increase. Thirty-four cases and eight deaths were reported to the Board of Health to-day. The spreading of the disease is noticeably in the northern portion of the city. Sixteen cases developed in Chelsea. Prominent physicians are now of the opinion that there will be a continued increase until October. Notwithstanding the efforts of the State Board of Health officials to confine the disease to the city proper, scarcely a day passes but what new cases are reported in the suburbs, at a distance varying from two to ten miles. The last instances are those of Esquire Hoegel and family, six miles south of Memphis, and Dave Cockrell, five miles east, on the Poplar street boulevard.

Mr. Jake Kohlberg, a Howard visitor, to-night related to your correspondent an incident connected with Mrs. Minnie Wilkie's death, which occurred this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Just previous to dissolution she had several attacks to black vomit, and during the intervals called upon her husband to kiss her. Regardless of the danger that attended her request her husband time and again imprinted his kiss upon her. He was warned of the risk he ran, but he was faithful to her in death as he had been in life. She died with her arms around his neck. One hour afterwards Mr. Wilkie himself was stricken with a most malignant case, although he had a severe attack last year. His kiss may yet prove the kiss of death.

The following appeal has been sent out by the Teutonic Relief Association: To the Germans of the United States: The Teutonic Relief Association, comprising delegates of all the German societies of Memphis, are compelled to call on their countrymen for help. Our fund is nearly exhausted, and the suffering is very great. Send to the Teutonic Relief Association. (Signed) A. GOLDSCHMIDT, Pres. JOHN L. EICHENBERG, Sec.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock, Charley Atwell, a German, shot and instantly killed Henry Allen, a negro. The causes which led to the shooting are as follows: Henry Allen and another negro named Henry Wagner had a difficulty with Atwell about half an hour before the killing occurred, at which time Atwell snapped a pistol at Atwell, but it failed to explode. Atwell then fired a shot over the heads of his assassins, who fled, but soon returned heavily armed, Wagner carrying a double-barreled shot gun, while Allen had a navy six-shooter. Atwell in the meantime had retired within Mrs. Carroll's garden on Poplar street. Joe Strehl, a butcher, was seated in front of the garden when the negroes approached, and tried to expostulate with them, but they paid no attention to him, and endeavored to pass him and enter the house; Strehl seized Wagner's gun, and a struggle ensued between the two. Allen immediately fired at Strehl. Atwell ran to the front door with a pistol in his hand, when Allen fired twice at him. Atwell then took deliberate aim and fired one shot at Allen, striking him in the right side underneath the arm, killing him instantly. By this time Wagner had gained possession of his gun and immediately fled. Atwell mounted a horse and rode to the station house, where he surrendered himself to the police authorities. A coroner's inquest was held on the remains of Allen, and the jury, which was composed of four whites and three colored, returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Atwell was at once released from custody.

AN ACCIDENT occurred at the coal shaft early this morning. John Graves, one of the workmen, and a son-in-law of Carroll Eads, started to go down the shaft for the purpose of fixing the pump. As he went down the ladder he called out "Good by, boys." But a few seconds elapsed when the men at the top of the shaft heard a crash, followed by deep groans. One of the miners, who took in the situation at a glance, jumped for the iron rope that puts up the bucket, and slid down a platform 40 feet below as quick as a flash. Here the miner discovered Graves lying on his right side, evidently in considerable pain. In a few moments the injured man recovered sufficiently to climb the ladder and emerge from the pit. Going down Graves says he lost his hold on the ladder and fell about 30 feet, and in his frantic endeavors to save himself he clutched the pipe that supplies the pump with steam, thus breaking his fall and saving his life. His injuries consist of bruises on his right side and a serious wrench of his right ankle.

DEATH OF REV. N. P. HEATH.

A Minister and Knight Templar Called to his Heavenly Home—Final Place of the Funeral.

On yesterday afternoon Rev. Dr. Goodwin received the sad but not wholly unexpected announcement of the death of Rev. N. P. Heath, one of the best known ministers in the Illinois Conference, and Grand Prelate of the Grand Lodge of Knight Templars. His death took place in Wisconsin August 24. He was so well known to the people of this community that we will not attempt at this time to name his many excellent qualities as a minister and citizen. He was a good man, and had the deepest respect of all who knew him. The deceased was born in Urbana, Ohio, in the year 1818, and was converted in 1838. He joined the Illinois Conference in 1839, has belonged to the Missouri, Indiana and California Conferences, and has been stationed at New Albany, Ind., St. Louis, Mo., and San Francisco, California. In the Illinois Conference his chief appointments have been Griggsville, Jacksonville, Decatur, Danville, Mattoon and Champaign. He had been afflicted for some years with a complication of diseases, and for a number of weeks had been under eminent medical treatment at the Gardner House in Chicago. His health seemed to be improving and he went to a favorite summer resort in Wisconsin, where he died at 11 p. m. Sunday, August 24, 1879.

Mr. Heath leaves a wife, one son and four daughters, one of whom is married, and is living at Mattoon.

The remains will reach Champaign at 3 p. m. on Wednesday, and the funeral services will be had at that place at 9 a. m. on Thursday, under the direction of Rev. J. G. Little, presiding elder of the Champaign district.

The following announcement is from the Globe-Democrat of to-day:

CHAMPAIGN, ILL., Aug. 25.—The long expected death of a prominent minister of the Methodist church in this city, Rev. N. P. Heath, occurred last night at Ashland, Wis., of Bright's disease of the kidneys.

Mr. Heath had served as pastor in Chicago and many of the leading cities of Illinois, being formerly from Ohio. He will be interred here on next Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, by the Grand Commandery of the Knights Templar of Illinois, of which body he was Grand Prelate. Peoria, Chicago, Paxton, Bloomington, Mattoon, Paris, Danville and Urbana Commanderies will be present to participate.

Accidental Death.

Monday evening, at about 5 o'clock, Paul Conlans, a young Frenchman aged 18 years, met his death at his father's home, on B. A. Hall's farm, three miles north of Blue Mound, in this county, under the following circumstances: He was loading a double-barrelled shot-gun in the house in the presence of his father, mother and brother. He had loaded one of the barrels, and was in the act of pouring the powder into the other barrel when the gun went off, the entire charge of the loaded barrel entering Paul's right eye, and blowing part of his head off. He lived for three or four hours and then expired. Coroner Dinneen was notified this morning of the death. An inquest will be held to-day.

Boys in Trouble.

The following number of boys whose ages range from 14 to 18 years, are under arrest for plundering Will Dillehunt's half acre watermelon patch, about one-and-a-half miles north of the Union depot: William Canfield, George Jones, Ed. Schultz, Will Lloyd, John Godfrey and August Sigler.

Warrants are out for the arrest of William Sipes and William Owens, but they have probably left the city. The arrests were made by Constables Block and Weitzel.

The parties will have an examination before Justice Curtis at 7 o'clock this evening. The proof is strong against the boys, and all will doubtless plead guilty to the charge preferred against them. It seems that on several occasions the youthful criminals visited Dillehunt's patch, ate all they wanted, and then ruined the vines and smashed the remaining watermelons. The fines will not be less than $3, nor more than $20 each.

The "Mason Mystery" Again.

We have received a note from Macon stating that there was no mystery about Miss Jennie Chew leaving that place in April, 1878. She left the place with the full knowledge of Mrs. C. H. Ruby at 9 o'clock in the morning on the day in question. Miss Chew then told Mrs. R. that she was going to see her father. With this exception the article printed in these columns on the 21st inst. was correct. Miss Chew was in Macon last week and paid Mrs. Ruby a visit.

Two for a Quarter All Around.

We have bunched all those dark, solid colored and striped 15 and 30 cent hose, and are offering them at two pairs for a quarter. These are the best bargains in hose ever offered in Decatur. We continue the sale of those 5c. white and 10c. fancy ladies' misses' and children's hose. Altogether these goods cannot be duplicated anywhere at the prices named.

Regular meeting to-night. Members requested to be present.

JOHN LINN, President.

H. A. Wood, Sec.

The Charles Forbes newly organized dramatic company was greeted with a large and appreciative audience at the opera house last night, when the highly amusing and satirical society drama of "Our Boarding House" was presented.

The audience was kept in a continual roar of laughter by the comicallies of Melville's "M. T. Elevator," Mallon's "Gillypod," Sullivan's "Eligible," and Susie Parker's "Betty." The characters are all well taken, and present the play much better than did the Grover party. Miss Flora Newton is the tragedy queen of the company, and is deserving of the very many encomiums of the press she has received. D. B. Hilliard, Little Camilla and Miss Hilliard are also deserving of special mention. Forbes has a splendid company this season—one of the very best on the road. To-night the company will appear in the Yankee play of "Asa Whitcomb," one of the most humorous, pathetic and exciting dramas on the American stage. Of Mr. Mallon and the play the Detroit Post says:

Mr. Andrew Mallon has captured the town—professionals, general public and all—by his personation of Asa Whitcomb, the Yankee farmer. Mr. Mallon is, without doubt, one of the most finished and artistic personations of the peculiar type of characters which he represents we have ever seen. He is humorous without being broad, and natural without being dry; all his quaint oddities of speech and manner are eminently true to life, and although apparently unstudied, must be the result of close and attentive observation. He is ably supported by the company who accompany him, his several members evidently having been selected with a special view to their fitness for the special line of characters which they were to represent. The play, although devoid of any great depth of plot, is nevertheless possessed of character and humor, representing a delightfully natural picture of way-down East life and comfort.

General admission, 35 cents; reserved seats, 50 cents; gallery, 25 cents; children under 10 years, 15 cents. It is a first-class company, and should have a packed house to-night.

A "Citizen" Speaks for Bird.

On the 22d an article appeared in these columns censuring Col. Bird for indifference in arresting strangers and farmers for the great crime of innocently stepping on the grass in the park. Special reference was made to the Colonel's arrest of three farmers from neighboring counties, who being entirely ignorant of the rules and not seeing the signs, got on the grass. We are in receipt of the following from "Citizen," who feels called upon to defend the custodian's action in that particular case:

Editors REPUBLICAN:—Having seen in the papers recently something said reflecting on Mr. Bird, the park custodian, I deem it but just to say in his behalf that he is a prompt, efficient, impartial and faithful man in the discharge of his duties, affable and gentlemanly in his manner toward visitors, taking more pride in his work than any other man they have ever had. Discipline and a method are necessary in the prosecution of almost any duty, and I think Mr. Bird would be the last one to usurp authority; and as rules are like fences, merely laid down when there are liabilities of trespassers, it seems unjust to blame him for making arrests for violations. If the rules are obnoxious the city council ought to be accountable for making them.

CITIZEN.

FRANCIS MURPHY, who is to deliver a temperance lecture at the tabernacle in this city on Friday evening, Sept. 12th, was born in Wexford, Ireland, on the 24th of April, A. D. 1838. His father died soon after his birth, leaving him to the care of his mother, who was a most devoted and religious woman. Their home was a small cottage situated prominently out upon the harbor of Wexford, contiguous to St. George's Channel, which connects the Irish Sea with the Atlantic Ocean. He landed in America at the age of 16, and two years later married.

The brush women incarcerated in the county jail under fines of $50 each have been having high old times for a number of days past. The leader of the gang has come to grief. She will not stand on her head for several months to come. Yesterday Mary Fielding, after performing several difficult feats, attempted to turn a somersault from the second tier platform to the stone floor below. She reached the floor, but instead of lighting on her feet, she came down head first and broke her collar bone. Mary is now under the care of the county physician.

NEWSY MATTERS.

Track Laying on the L. & N.—Other Squalls of General Interest.

Tom Doyle is in mourning. He ran afoul of a cow on the St. Louis branch the other night, and the collision wrecked his little darkey statue.

A new lamp now adorns the Wabash signal station at the Union depot platform.

On Saturday track laying commenced on the east end portion of the Indianapolis, Decatur and Springfield railway. The work will move slowly until the bridges over the creeks are constructed.

Sept. 1st the Illinois Central road again commences doing its St. Louis business over the Vandallia line. H. W. Hibbard, general freight agent of the Vandallia, has been in Chicago a couple of days arranging matters with Joseph Tucker, traffic manager of the Illinois Central.

The earnings of the Wabash railway for the seven months ending July 31, '79, were $2,570,742; corresponding time last year, $2,569,425, a decrease of $1,317, or 0.5 per cent. The earnings for the month of July were $417,433; corresponding month last year, $382,887, an increase of $34,546, or 9.0 per cent.

A rule of the Illinois Central railroad provides that dogs shall not ride in a passenger car; but a big and ferocious bulldog walked into a car at Chicago, appropriated a whole seat, and rode 300 miles unmolested. "He had such a meaning smile," was the conductor's apology for not ejecting him.

It is understood that Jay Gould has got matters in such shape as to secure the Denver Pacific road through a foreclosure sale. If this report is true, Gould has completed his connection of Toledo with the Union Pacific. The Denver Pacific, the Kansas Pacific, running from Kansas City to Denver, a distance of 600 miles, the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern, 370 miles, and the Wabash, 678 miles, make a total of 1,648 miles controlled by Jay Gould.

Indianapolis Journal: For the first time in railway history every one of the trunk lines is absolutely glutted and stalled to-day with freight. All the warehouses, elevators, etc., are crammed.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Dolie Millikin left for Terre Haute at 3 30 p. m. yesterday.

A. F. Gephart tells a good joke on I. J. Chronister about an important business transaction.

Melville and Mallon, with Forbes' dramatic company, are a good pair to draw to. They are as full of real fun as Shellenbarger's mill is of wheat.

Otto E. Curtis, the jeweler, left this afternoon for New York and Boston, to be absent two weeks on business connected with his firm.

Joe B. Dingess got home from old Virginia yesterday, after an absence of nearly six weeks. His friends will find him at his old place at Linn & Scruggs.

Capt. Riebsame returned home from Germany Saturday. He is looking well, and reports as having had a splendid visit among his old friends. His voyage across the ocean and on his return was exceedingly pleasant.—Bloomington Pantagraph.

Republicans are not ungrateful. Dutch Henry, the fat butcher, has just received information from the pension department that back pension has been allowed him for wounds received at the battle of Springfield, Mo., in 1861. He has 18 years back pension due him, and is informed that he can draw his pay at the Chicago agency. The whole amount will be something over $1700. Bully for Henry.

DIED.

Five miles northeast of Decatur, at midnight, on Monday, Aug. 25, 1879, Mrs. Elizabeth Hum, in the 59th year of her age.

The deceased had been in feeble health for some time, and died peacefully. She was a member of the First M. E. church in this city, where in health she was a regular attendant. She leaves a husband, Mr. John Hum, and two children, Mrs. Dr. Walters and Mr. J. W. Hum, besides a very large number of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. The time of the funeral is fixed for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock but the place is not yet known.

At Moanewaqua, Ill., this (Tuesday) morning, John E. Ayres, aged about 70 years.

Deceased had many friends in this locality, and died very wealthy. His funeral will take place on Wednesday at 10 a. m.

FRANCIS MURPHY.

The Great Appeal of Temperance at the Tabernacle September 12th.

The management take pleasure in announcing to the friends of temperance and the public generally, that they have engaged the earnest, eloquent and gifted temperance orator, FRANCIS MURPHY, to deliver one of his most interesting lectures at the tabernacle, in this city, on the evening of FRIDAY, SEPT. 12th. Mr. Murphy has but recently returned from California, and everywhere he was greeted with crowded houses. His fame as a temperance speaker and organizer is not only national but world-wide, and people have traveled many miles to hear him in his pathetic appeals to drunkards to forsake their cups, reform, and be MEN.—Wherever he goes Francis Murphy preaches and practices gospel temperance, and many homes in this country to-day have reason to bless him and his noble efforts. The Murphy movement has swept over the entire land, and the fruits are plainly apparent in very many localities. Don't fail to hear him. Let the people come in from the country and from the neighboring towns and fill the tabernacle. Remember the date, Sept. 12th. Admission to all parts of the house, 25 cents.
